

Reflections on the Button Activity

1. Consider the developmental area that was assigned to your group.
2. List your own curriculum goals related to that area. Which ones could be assessed during this activity?
3. How could you record your observations of children related to those goals during this activity?
4. Design a recording method and represent it on a piece of chart paper. Be prepared to share with the whole group.
5. What might you do to support a child's progress related to the documentation you would collect? List your next steps.